

Greg D'Angelo Construction

For the past 20 years, Greg D'Angelo Construction Inc. has been assisting clients in custom home building, historical restorations and renovations. Their knowledgeable administrative staff, reliable subcontractors and expert project managers ensure impeccable and timely completion of each construction endeavor.

They are not a construction company in a conventional sense. In addition to expertly handling the technicalities and financial and mechanical issues inherent in their profession, they insist on creating a positive experience for their customers.

This emphasis on the well-being of their clients forms the basis of Greg D'Angelo Construction's unique philosophy. They believe that "chemistry" and mutual trust are necessary ingredients in a successful business undertaking.

Consequently, their reputation extends well beyond high-quality construction. As evidenced by various testimonials, not only have they been creating beautiful homes, but their customers have become supportive fans. The gratitude expressed by their clients is the most rewarding aspect of what Greg D'Angelo Construction Inc. does.
